By GEORGE B. UNDERWOOD.

Picking an all-America collegiate track and field team is a much easier track and field team is a much easier task than selecting an all-America foot-ball aggregation. Most of the uncertainties that confront the gridiron experts do not trouble the compilers in athletics. Father Time and Uncle Tape Measure stand at one's shoulder ready to offer conclusive proofs. There are four or five big athletic meetings held annually in which practically all of the star college athletes are brought to. star college athletes are brought to-gether and which offer excellent lines on comparative abilities.

Weather and track conditions are weather and track conditions are about the only disturbing elements that leave room for doubt to creep in. One also must not depend too strongly on timing. It requires a great amount of skill and experience to time a race and it only is in the big meets, where reliable and experienced men hold the watches, that one can put much faith in the timing. In such meets as the L.C. A. A. A. A. championships, conference championships and Penn relays the ability of the ships and Penn relays the ability of the officials generally is unquestioned.

No Double Selection.

The selection of Tim Sun's all-America collegiate team is based on first and figures and only in one or two cases does personal opinion enter. It can be noted that a different man is selected for each position. Some experts believe in selecting the same man for several positions when occasion warrants it. The writer, however, believes that when such a procedure is followed the team idea is done away with.

There is no doubt that Ted Meredith There is no doubt that Ted Meredith showed himself to be the best hulf miler as well as the best quarter miler, among the collegians and that Arile Mucks excelled all collegians in throwing the discuss as well as putting the shot. The writer, however, holding religiously to the team idea, chose Meredith for the quarter mile, selected Mucks for the shot put and chose other men for the hulf mile and the discuss throw.

Through his victories over the cream of the college sprinters in the 100 yard dashes at both the intercollegiate chamdashes at both the intercollegiate championships and the Penn relays H. L. Smith of Michigan clearly is entitled to the first string 100 yard selection. Carmann Smith of Wisconsin, the Western conference winner, is a sprinter of remarkable ability and with the exception of his defeat at the hands of H. L. Smith in the Penn relays went through the season practically undefeated. He is deserving of second string selection.

Drew Had Of Year.

Other collegiate 199 yard men de-serving of mention are Kelly of Holy Cross, Butler Dubuque, Teschner of Harvard, H. of Illinois, Moore of Princeton, Hopt of Grinnell, and Drew. formerly of Southern California and now of Drake College. Drew undoubtedly Karl T. ompson of California, who now is at Dirtmouth, is given the second string high hurdles election on account of Fale and Treweeke of Kansas.

Among the other good college quarter milers of the year was Westmore Willeox of Harvard, who ran close to 48 seconds at the Penn relays. White cox did not piace in the alouble furious sevent in the intercollegiate quarter mile championships. The Harvard fiyer tried to run Meredith into the same thing to himself instead. Riley of Dartmouth in finishing second to Merco dith in the Quaker's figure fracturing frace at Cambridge only ran a hair worse than 48 seconds. Lynn of Leland Stanford, Williams of Wisconsin and Crim of Cornell sil are deserving of honorable mention.

Miredith, who did 1:52 1-5 for the half mile at the Penn-Cornell dual meet and then turned in a 1:52 performance in the 1.C. A. A. A. anet, gets second sirtug him to it. He was off form and not able mention.

LUMINARIES OF TRACK AND FIELD WHO WERE MOST ACTIVE IN MAKING COLLEGE ATHLETIC HISTORY IN 1916

Scott's running leads many of the experts to think that under training and competitive conditions enjoyed by most of the other college athletes the Mississippl boy would prove a second, and possibly a greater, Mercdith. There are few meets held in his section of the country. In conditioning and campaigning he greatly is handicapped, yet he has shown himself to be one of the greatest shown himself to be one of the greatest half milers that ever dug up the cinders. Bingham of Harvard, who finished second to Meredith in the I. C. A. A. A.

A meet, is the second string half mile selection. Other good collegiate half milers of the year were Scudder of Pennsylvania, Morris of Virginia, Harvey of Wisconsin, Taylor of Cornell, Petersea of Syracuse and Uffer of Michigan.

Windongle's 4:15 victory over the cream of the collegiate milers in the I. C.A.A.A.A. meet gives him clear title to the mile position. Mason of Plinois, who won the Western Conference chamformerly of Southern California and now of Drake College. Drew undoubtedly is one of the greatest sprinters who ever drew on a spiked shoe. In his start early this season he was beaten several times, however, and later suffered with an attack of paralysis that put him out of competition.

Hoyt of Grinnell is chosen for the 230 yard selection over Moore of Princeton, who captured the intercollegiate furiong championship. At Des Moines reputable watch holders caught Hoyt in the great time of 21 2-5 seconds, a new round the turn furiong record, Qualified experts who have seen Hoyt in sction say he is capable of the feat credited him. Moore showed his heels to a great field of furionsers in the L C. A. A. A. championships and his selection as second string man will go unquestioned.

Meredith's record wrecking quarter mile in 47 4-5 seconds at the intercol legiate championships gives him undisputed fight to the quarter mile position. Inches, Oler clearly showed himself to be Maker's superior. The Yale man's consistent jumping throughout the year upon which Dismond accomplished the feat was measured eighteen inches from the border, and he thus ran several yards less than did the flying son of Pennsylvania. Dismond defeated the heat of the middle Western quarter milers in the conference championships and is deserving of second string position.

BRITTON EARNED RIGHT TO CROWN

Decision Over Lewis Entitled Him to Championship Vacated by Dixie Kid.

RITCHIE GAVE UP TITLE

By THE VETERAN.

In only two classes of pugilism in this country was there any change as regard. title during the year just closed The was in the welter division, which has had no title holder since the Dixie Kid letthis country and settled in England, and in the light heavyweight class.

However, Jack Braton, getting to be heavy for the lightweight division, decided early in the present year to get after the weiter crown. His nearest rival was Kid Lewis, and Britton carned a referee's decision over Lewis in twen rounds at New Orleans. Britton is ronceded to be the title holder of the circ and promises to hold the title for some time to come.

Ritchie Given to Title.

Willie Ritchie varated his lightweight title, and the year ends with no rith holder in the class. Al McCoy sell trange of to the body weight title, although he is not represent
